

Malesiana Tropicals operates facilities for the production of palm oil products. The company is a member of the Malesiana Group, which is a leading palm oil producer in Indonesia. The company's facilities are located in various regions of Indonesia, including Sumatra, Kalimantan, and Sulawesi. The company's products are used in a wide range of applications, including food, cosmetics, and industrial uses.